Stores, Industry Remodel As Spring Building Begins

New construction work, both commercial and residential, is under way in Salem with the advent of spring weather.

General expansion, remodeling and renovation by several firms will mean an investment of at least $250,000 in improvements.

Several downtown stores have begun mercantile improvements and one industry, the Salem Label Co., is adding to its shop facilities. The Label firm at 488 S. Lundy Ave. is adding a new building which will provide 5,000 more square feet of space for manufacturing. The new facilities will include Roto-Gravure and Flexographic machines.

Part of the $50,000 addition will be used for stock storage, a warehouse, stock preparation as well as employees lounge.

The company will remodel some of its present offices and install a new art department and a fireproof vault for printing plates and art work, said Henry Anderson, president of the firm.

Sears Store Expands
The Sears and Roebuck Co. at 165 S. Broadway is expanding its facilities into the former Golden Eagles store room at 171 S. Broadway. The adjacent space will provide 500 more square feet at an investment of $50,000.

The added room will house a broader assortment of merchandise. Completion is anticipated by July 1, store manager Louis Maneri said.

Work at the Metzger Hotel, 477 E. State St., is progressing rapidly on the remodeling of the third floor.

Construction costs will total some $50,000 for improvements such as mahogany wall paneling, wall-to-wall carpeting, sliding plate glass windows in the showers and new bathtubs.

Smaller rooms are being combined into one large single room and new oak furniture is being added.

Each room will have new doors and convector type radiators.

Jakarta Forces To Hit Rebels

Offensive Ordered To End Rebellion

JAKARTA (AP)—Prodded by fears that Indonesia may be turned into an East-West battleground, Premier Djuanda's government has ordered an offensive to stamp out the six-week-old rebellion in Central Sumatra.

Confirmation that Jakarta forces soon will strike at the rebel centers of Padang and Bukittinggi has been given in the past 18 hours by high sources.

A week ago the same sources disclosed that much publicized plans for an assault on the twin rebel centers had been delayed in anticipation of uprisings against Col. Achmad Hussein and rebel Premier Sjafruddin Prawiranegara. The Central government had planned to step in and help, but the new uprisings did not materialize.

Although no one is saying so officially, the decision to attack now is believed to be prompted by the strong U. S. reaction to Indonesia's purchase of arms from the Soviet bloc and fears in the Jakarta government that the West will intervene on the rebel side.

President Sukarno's government, which insists it is not Communist, is described as alarmed and apprehensive over the tone of the U. S. State Department's objections to its purchase of arms from Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

The government's anxiety has been fanned by reports that the rebels have received repeated arms shipments from either. For-

Legal Action Delays Elkrun Transfer

LISBON — A month's delay in transferring Elkrun territory from Beaver Local school district to the Lisbon school system was secured by a mandamus action filed Thursday afternoon by Franklin Sturgeon of Elkton, assistant principal, 7th grade teacher and school bus driver.

Sturgeon brought the action against the County Board of Education, requesting the board to certify to the County Board of Elections the territory in Elkrun Township involved in the proposed transfer for a vote of all Beaver Local district residents.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp granted Sturgeon's attorney an "alternative writ" to hold up the county board's transfer of the territory to Lisbon as recommended by the State Board of Education March 23.

Sturgeon's petition declares that new Senate Bill 278 should take precedence. The bill requires that any transfer from a district must be voted on by all the people of the district, not only those residing in the part involved in the transfer.

The court will hear the mandamus action May 9.

HUB CAPS ARAE STOLEN

Wars With State on Highway Repairs

Uhrichsville Mayor Barricades Roads

UHRICHVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Industrial truck traffic moving over three highways was blocked here today. Mayor Jess Dempster said the section of road, where U. S. 250, U. S. 36 and Ohio 8 pass jointly, is not safe and the city can't afford to rebuild it.

Wooden barriers went up on the 2,000-foot stretch of road in the city Thursday night. They caused a traffic jam for several hours outside the east and west entrances to the city, backing up the heavy trucks for about 2½ miles.

The 48-year-old Democratic mayor, who wants the State Highway Department to foot the major share of the repair bill, said the highway is in "deplorable condition—probably the worst in the whole United States."

About 9,000 vehicles normally pass through town on the routes in a 24-hour period, Dempster said. Automobiles could get through the city today, but heavy trucks were banned from the main routes or side streets. The city has a 5,000-pound weight limit on side streets.

Drivers of heavy trucks who wanted to go around the city had to backtrack and go many miles out of their way.

The mayor said: "I ordered the roads closed because it just wasn't safe for trucks to pass."

Dempster said the pock-marked highway through this city of 7,000 needs repairs which will cost $150,000, according to state estimates.

"The next move is up to the state or federal government. All I've had from them is promises," Dempster said.

He said the highway department has refused to offer more than 50 per cent aid in rebuilding the highway. "We just can't afford to do the job ourselves," Dempster explained. "We are willing to put up 50 per cent. That's all we can do."

In Columbus, a highway department spokesman said the state last year offered to pay the full cost of repairing the highway if the city would repay half the cost within four years. Uhrichsville took no action on the offer, the spokesman said, "but as far as I know the state's offer still stands."

The spokesman said the state today planned to ask for federal aid in repairing the road but that this frankly was a long shot. The federal government normally doesn't grant funds for road repair unless plans call for widening and otherwise increasing the traffic capacity of the thoroughfare. The Uhrichsville plans call only for resurfacing and repairs.

The spokesman added that the highway department has not yet decided whether to seek court action.

2 Killed, 15 Hurt As Cuban Plane Crashes

HAVANA (AP)—A Cuban army plane crashed in flames in the exclusive Miramar residential district of Havana today, killing 2 persons and injuring 15.

The plane demolished a grocery store and adjoining residence. The craft's gasoline tanks exploded and it burst into flames as it was taking off from a nearby airfield.

Killed were the pilot and a Cuban civilian who was trapped under flaming debris in the grocery store.

Wreckage flew over a wide area. About 50 houses suffered some damage.

The plane, described as a fighter aircraft, was carrying bombs but these did not explode.

Soviets Make New Summit Bid

Communique Asks
For Meeting in April

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia reportedly proposed to the Western Powers today that preparatory talks for a summit conference begin April 17 in Moscow.

Secretary of State Dulles immediately went to the White House to discuss the date proposed by Russia with President Eisenhower before Eisenhower's departure for a golfing weekend at August, Ga.

The Soviet response also was being studied carefully by State Department experts to determine whether it gives evidence that Premier Nikita Khrushchev now is ready to begin negotiating on the details of arrangements and the issues which would come before a heads of government meeting.

Such a meeting seems almost certain to be held later this year. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty gave out the first word here that the Soviet reply had been received but disclosed no details, referring inquiries to the State Department.

Informants there would say at the moment only that the Russians had proposed that preliminary talks begin April 17.

The Soviet note was a reply to a March 31 proposal by the United States, Britain and France that their ambassadors in Moscow should start the preparatory work.

The Western Powers called for a start of diplomatic exchanges in the second half of April. Receipt of the Soviet reply followed quickly on the return to Moscow Thursday of Khrushchev. Khrushchev had just wound up an eight-day visit to Hungary.

Lisbon Girl Dies In Hospital

Brenda Ikirt's Valiant Heart Just Gives Up

Three major and four exploratory operations proved too much for the valiant heart of little Brenda Fay Ikirt, 7.

The child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Ikirt of 225 W. Maple St., died suddenly at 3 p.m. Thursday at St. Vincent Hospital, Cleveland. A patient there since Nov. 10, she had been scheduled to undergo her fourth operation today.

Brenda, a pretty brown-haired, brown-eyed girl, was born with a heart defect which would have worsened as she grew older.

Faced with this uncertainty, the parents reached the decision late last year to approve an operation that might mend Brenda's heart even though they were informed by doctors that she would have only a 35-40 per cent chance of surviving the surgery.

Brenda underwent a four-hour operation Nov. 13, with volunteer blood donors supplying a mechanical heart while surgeons worked on hers. The doctors found a large hole in the heart and patched it with plastic.

She failed to improve and developed an infection. Another four-hour operation was performed in January, but she again began running a fever, indicating the presence of another infection.

The final major surgery was performed on the child Feb. 6 when she was on the operating table for six hours.

Interspersed among the heart operations were four exploratory operations made by surgeons to determine why the child was not recovering.

A car driven by Fred Bencko, 33, of New Philadelphia, went off the right side of the road into a ditch on Rt. 62, just north of Salem, at 5:50 p.m.

Marion L. Ackerman, 19, of RD 1, Salem, lost control of his car on a curve causing it to go into a ditch on Rt. 62, just north of Salem, at 7:50 p.m.

Plane Explosion Under Probe

Blast Hurlled Four
Crewmen to Deaths

NORTH COLLINS, N. Y. (AP)—The Air Force began searching today for the cause of the explosion that shattered a B47 Stratocruiser bomber over western New York and hurled its four crewmen to their deaths.

The plane, a medium bomber on a routine training mission out of Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio, was nearing an Air Force tanker to refuel Thursday when it blew apart in a blast of flame visible as far as Buffalo, 20 miles north of this rural area.

Most of the B47 fell in two blazing hunks of wreckage, scattering bits of metal, shreds of technical manuals and other debris over a five-mile area.

Crewmen of the KC-97 tanker, which is stationed at Dow Air Force Base, near Bangor, Maine, said the planes were about three miles apart 15,000 feet up when the bomber suddenly burst into a ball of flame.

Another witness flying a private plane in the area said he saw the bomber falling slowly to earth in two intense balls of fire.

The victims were identified by the Air Force as Maj. Harold L.

Second Rebel Attempt at War, Strike Flops

Castro Continues
To Direct Attacks
From Headquarters

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's chances of ousting President Fulgencio Batista soon faded today after the failure of his forces' second attempt at total war and a general strike.

Bomb-throwing young rebels tried Thursday to touch off an uprising in Santiago, but national police quickly smothered them with machine-gun fire. The number of casualties in the southeast Cuban port city could not be learned immediately.

On Wednesday rebels in Havana and Matanzas called a general strike and popular uprisings. That time, too, the public did not respond and police quelled the outbreak. Forty-five rebels and two policemen were killed.

From his guerrilla headquarters in the Sierra Maestra of southeastern Cuba, Castro continued to direct sabotage and attacks on communications — the kind of campaign he has waged against Batista for 16 months.

But the two failures to win popular support for his proclaimed all-out war to overthrow Batista apparently left Castro without any immediate chance of success. The defeat in Santiago was a particularly hard blow, since Castro's main strength and theater of operations is the surrounding Oriente province.

Only a massive uprising of Cubans or defection of many of Batista's 38,000 troops could assure victory for Castro. Neither appeared likely in the foreseeable future. The armed forces have remained steadfast with former sergeant Batista, and he has legalized killing of strike agitators.

East Liverpool Passes City Income Tax

EAST LIVERPOOL — City Council, by a vote of six to one, approved as an emergency measure, an eight-tenths mill city income tax Thursday night.

The ordinance putting the tax into effect for three years was signed by Mayor Fred T. Lawrence.

The withholding tax is levied on everyone working or living here, but provides an escape clause against double taxation by granting reciprocity to other communities.

So, in self defense, other communities in neighboring Pennsylvania and West Virginia cities are expected to impose their own taxes, to keep their money in their cities.

Mayor Lawrence asked the tax to finance a 10 per cent municipal wage raise and start a five-year improvement program.

A referendum is blocked because of the emergency clause, but organized labor groups said they would work for a repeal of the measure in November.

A crowd of at least 150 jammed every available seat in the council chamber last night and overflowed into the space around the walls and the corridor outside. It was the largest to pack the chamber in at least 20 years. Council spent the first hour and 45 minutes listening to arguments for and against the tax from the audience.

Proponents of the tax were greatly outnumbered by the opponents. The new tax means the city will collect 80 cents on each $100 of earnings, including the net profits of businesses, corporations and partnerships.

Sec. Brown Warns Precinct Workers Against Vote Fraud

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has one word of advice for the few voting precinct workers who might be tempted to sneak in a few "short-pencil" votes for a friend.

That word: "Don't!"

The chances of getting caught in this day of scientific fraud detection are greater every year. And, as scientific fraud detection gets better, vote fraud cases are becoming fewer, Brown pointed out.

"There are more cases of foolhardy attempts to help friends in heated intraparty races than incidents of fraud in races between Republicans and Democrats," Brown reports in his capacity as Ohio's chief election official.

The so-called "short-pencil" type of vote fraud takes its name from the fact that a small pencil stub, usually concealed in the palm of the hand, is the tool used.

In some instances, an X is placed in the blank space in front of the name of a candidate where the voter has neglected to vote for that office. In other instances, an X is marked in front of the opponent of the candidate for whom the voter actually has cast his ballot.

Brown believes the percentage of dishonest election officials "is very, very small," but that overzealousness on the part of a partisan booth worker sometimes leads otherwise reputable persons to attempt to short-pencil a ballot or two.

But consider the hazards, the secretary of state suggests.

Most people don't know it, but an X may tell as much about your handwriting as your signature. That's after the suspected X is photographed and enlarged, of course.

Hugh L. Liggett Sr., superintendent of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, says it wasn't until 1952 that it was found possible to identify a graphic pattern in X marks.

Liggett explains it this way:

"The X is executed by a reflex action similar to that of writing a signature, but its style and size are limited to the writer's mental conception of the mark. As minds of persons conceive objects differently, each person's conceptions of X marks are different, thus giving each person's mark certain peculiarities and individuality."

In addition, differences in the makeup of the lead in a pencil can trap a culprit.

There are other methods, some of which Brown doesn't want to talk about.

But, he points out, in extreme cases, a polygraph expert has used lie-detector tests.

U.S. Navy Sub Designs Go in Cycles

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Submarines, like history and women's fashions, repeat themselves.

Fifty-eight years ago today the U.S. Navy received its first submarine. It resembled a shark and had only one propeller.

Next month the Navy will launch its newest atomic sub, the Skipjack. It also will look like a shark and have one propeller.

But there's a whale of a lot of difference.

J. P. Holland's submarine of 58 years ago, the Holland, burned gasoline and could stay under water for less than an hour. It measured 54 feet.

The Skipjack will cruise under atomic power and will be able to circle the globe without surfacing. It will measure 250 feet.

But, in the design sense, the Skipjack and the Holland are not far apart.

In the years separating the Holland and the Skipjack, American submarines took on lines much like the torpedoes they fire.

Gasoline and diesel-powered submarines could afford underwater cruising only as a part-time luxury. So they had to be designed with long, slim lines that catered to surface requirements. Atomic power changed that.

When the Skipjack is launched May 26, it will demonstrate the "new" shark trend in submarine design that began with the Holland.

Researchers Study New Cancer Treatment

By RENIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Researchers here are working on the idea of deliberately giving fatal doses of drugs or X-rays to knock out a patient's cancer and then saving his life with a potent biological antidote to the poison or radiation.

The lifesaving part of it already has worked in normal mice given deadly doses of a drug used to treat breast cancer and other solid types of malignancy.

Another researcher has transplanted cancer into mice, given them more than fatal doses of radiation and then snatched them from death with the potent anti-radiation substance.

Investigators elsewhere have done the same thing with mice which developed spontaneous cancer.

The potentially great lifesaver is bone marrow. It was used here on the radiated mice by Dr. John J. Trentin of Baylor University Medical School and on lethally drugged mice by Dr. Arthur Kirschbaum of Baylor and the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital.

Both physicians, who talked to science writers on the American Cancer Society's tour of research laboratories, did this with the idea of seeing how far they might go eventually with the same procedure in humans.

The drug is thio-tepa, which has been used with some success against human cancer but which is so poisonous that it cannot be given in large enough amount to deliver what might be a knockout undesirable effect is to destroy bone marrow, which is responsible for the production of blood cells.

Radiation also is a great weapon against cancer but it has to be carefully limited because of its

Safety Is Continuous

For eight years now the Columbian County Industrial Safety Committee has been encouraging and promoting the cause of safety in our industrial and commercial business establishments. The results have been tangible and the educational program far-reaching.

Because of the continued efforts on the part of the County Industrial Safety program, the officials, superintendents and others directing the operation of productive enterprises throughout the county have a better understanding of plant safety and the dividends that add up in accident-free hours and fewer mishaps to injure or cripple skilled workmen.

Because safety is something that can not be ascribed to one day and then forgotten the next, the County Safety Committee through its able secretary, Michael Schuller, preaches the gospel of safety the year round.

So it is a fitting climax, as it was here Wednesday night at the group's annual banquet, to issue certificates of achievement from the Ohio Division of Safety and Hygiene to the 61 different companies which set enviable records during the past year, as well as the Salem Manufacturers Association, co-sponsor, which witnessed a drop of more than 10 per cent in the accident frequency rate in the county.

No One Needs a Thermometer

The most confusing statistical mish-mash of them all is the one the Department of Commerce and the Department of Labor cook up to show employment and unemployment.

They do not want it to be that way, but that is how it comes out.

The March figure for unemployment is 5.198,000, which is 25,000 higher than it was in February, except the government admits its estimates could be 25,000 in error and consequently doesn't say officially there has been any increase.

The corresponding figure for March employment is 62,311,000. That is 323,000 more than it was in February, except that employment always rises in March because the weather moderates and farming begins.

Therefore, in spite of a rise in employment, there is nothing to warrant optimism about a springtime pickup so far, because there has been no decrease in unemployment and no significant increase in employment.

But since last fall, when government statistics on employment and unemployment began to get close attention each month, there has ceased to be a pressing need for statistical evidence.

No one needs a clinical thermometer any more to reveal that the proportion of people out of jobs and working part-time has increased to a point justifying deep concern. The patient is clearly indisposed.

Everybody becomes an economic expert at a time like this, and those who know the least about the things that make jobs often become more expert than anyone else. By the time the politicians get into the act, with a smattering of ideologists to egg them on, the bedside scene threatens to turn into a riot.

One thing, however, remains certain. Recovery from economic slump — this one or any other — cannot be miraculous. There are no panaceas to cure it suddenly. It was a long time in the making, and it will be a long time in the curing.

Time is on the side of sound recovery; it always has been. And time needs patience and wisdom to work out its cures. Sedatives and stimulants have their place, but they are not cures.

When the April estimates of employment and unemployment are published a month from now, they will either confirm the current belief among cautious experts that the crisis was passed in February and March, or they will indicate that the recession is going to be more prolonged and more severe than anyone had expected it to be.

A few men in the United States with unusual authority over economic matters are now in the process of making the man-made decisions that will determine how things are going to shape up in the next few months. One of these men is Walter Reuther, chief of the United Auto Workers, who must decide in behalf of his powerful union on what terms the key auto industry, whose operation affects the steel industry and the confidence of the country, will be permitted to operate.

'We're Working---Why?'

This Sounds Like Double Talk

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has spoken very firmly on buying things and streamlining the Defense Department although what he says one day may not sound exactly like what he said some previous day.

He has talked on both subjects at his news conferences over a period of months, starting last October.

Oct. 30 — At this time, before the recession had deepened, he was asked for advice to housewives and consumers on how to cope with rising prices. He said: "I just believe in a period of rising prices like in any other thing, people should attempt to purchase less than when prices are going down."

Between then and March the recession got deeper and prices went higher.

March 5 — Eisenhower said: "I believe, of course, that the upturn in our economy will be the result of millions of citizens making their purchases, having greater confidence."

March 26 — He said: "I believe that the American public now should be buying on the basis of the worth of the product that is offered them." He suggested business do a better packaging and advertising job to encourage buying.

On April 7 Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, speaking at the opening of a savings bond drive, urged people to buy bonds. He said those doing so are "simply temporarily transferring their purchasing power to the government."

April 9 — Asked what people should do to make the recession recede, Eisenhower said: "Buy." He was asked: "By what?" He said: "Anything."

Then, reminded that Anderson suggested people put their money in bonds, Eisenhower replied: "Well, I don't say you should buy carelessly. I said... let's be selective... Let's take the things we need... Let's take a crack at manufacturers, suggesting they are trying to sell things people don't want."

He has spoken twice at some length on his plans for reorganizing the Defense Department. The first time was in January while the plans were still under study. Jan. 15 — He said: "Now my personal convictions, no matter how strong, cannot be the final answer. There must be a consensus reached with Congress... I would be the last to ask for a detailed organization in which I believe because, I think, organization has got to be effective after there has passed from the scene a man who happens to have particularly strong convictions in the matter."

Asked if he would or wouldn't fight for whatever plan he finally came up with, Eisenhower didn't say yes or no but did say, "My views will be expressed to the very best I can."

Last week he sent his plan to Congress. It ran into some stiff opposition from Democrats and Republicans, particularly because of the power it would give Secretary of Defense McElroy.

April 9 — Told some "very powerful men" of both parties in Congress were opposed to his plan, Eisenhower was asked how he intended to get it through Congress.

He said: "I don't care how strong or numerous they are. Here is something that is necessary. I would... get onto the air as often as the television companies would let me. I would keep it up until I would have the United States understanding that it is their pocketbook, first of all; more than that, it is their safety..."

"I don't care just who is against this thing. It just happens I have got a little bit more experience in military organization and the directing of unified forces than anyone else in the active list..."

Stupid Governments

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ike Says Peoples' Intelligence Underestimated

Sometimes a casual remark expresses a great truism. It has more meaning than ponderous and lengthy pronouncements. Such a bit of wisdom of profound significance came from the lips of President Eisenhower in an extemporaneous address on Wednesday to a visiting group from abroad when he said:

"I have tried to talk a great deal in this country about people and people meeting people. I think governments are far more stupid than are their peoples. If we could get the peoples talking to each other, living with each other, visiting in homes, going to schools together, I am perfectly certain that most of the world's troubles would be over. And we could use all of the great inventions of science to human betterment and improvement rather than in the attempt to destroy ourselves."

The dictionary defines "stupidity" as a "lack of understanding" or perception.

Why does the President say that "governments are far more stupid than are their peoples"? If he is thinking about Western democracies — and he might well be — then undoubtedly he is referring to the evils of modern politics which infect Congress here and Parliaments abroad. For the fallacy is cherished by politicians that the people just don't understand vital issues and will vote for the candidate who resorts to demagoguery. This has rarely proved true in elections, though there are some exceptional cases where a guttural, playing crooner widely popular in a state or district has won the race over someone less spectacular.

THE OUTPOURING of propaganda from politicians' offices and some vitriolic speeches printed in the Congressional Record indicate that a few very aggressive political personalities still believe it is possible to fool the people by sneers and sneers.

Men of this type are not easily removed from political office, as the opposing candidate often is not skillful enough to do battle effectively against them. But history shows that the demagogue has relatively little influence in shaping public policy. To the extent that the public anywhere tolerates men of "stupidity" in Congress or Parliaments, there can be no doubt that democracies in the Western world suffer somewhat from such inadequacies.

But the President undoubtedly had in mind the stupidity of the autocratic governments which today assume they can indefinitely maintain a complete mastery over the people.

Mussolini and Hitler carried on their governments with a stupidity that brought tragedy to the world in the form of a global war. Khrushchev and his cohorts in Moscow now are engaged in applying the same formula of stupidity — they underestimate the intelligence of the people. It is precisely because the dictators are afraid of free communication that they deprive their people of liberty of expression.

Thus the Communist regime does not permit free access by the American people to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain. America, for instance, permits the Soviet ambassador to roam around this country making speeches and appearing on television but the American ambassador in Moscow has no such reciprocal privilege.

AMERICA PERMIT newspapermen generally to come to Washington from the Iron Curtain countries but the Soviet government picks and chooses whom it will admit and confines the selection to a small number.

It is a fact that the Soviet and Chinese empires are the only important areas of the world where wartime censorship still exist.

Mr. Eisenhower is right that there are governments in the world which are more stupid than their peoples. He might also have said that there are governments which are truly afraid of their own peoples and keep them under the tyrannical control of a personally operated police force.

In this respect the world sees little difference today between the dictatorships of Hitler and Mussolini and that of Khrushchev although the latter, by a more adroit use of the air waves and the help of a worldwide apparatus of Communist agents, does manage to carry on campaigns of deception.

The days of every dictatorship, however, are numbered. The time will come when the peoples behind the Iron Curtain will manifest their interest in other peoples, just as Mr. Eisenhower describes it, and will demand the kind of government that will truly represent them — a government that will remove the tensions that today are threatening another world war.

Project X Tabled

By DAVID BARNETT

WASHINGTON — The Society for Unfair Translations of the Congressional Record today distributed to members a preliminary report on Project X.

The society, a nonsectarian, non-cooperative, nonexistent group, recalled that the project had been set-up as a result of a suggestion by two senators that microphones be installed at the lawmakers' desks so that their word of wisdom could be heard throughout the chamber.

With the cooperation of the society's underground, those who regularly ride the subway between the Capitol and the Senate Office Building, electronic devices were installed throughout the Senate chamber and the conversations transcribed.

The preliminary report, marked "For Members Use Only," contains a selection of the conversations, with suitable deletions for security reasons. Some sample:

Administrative Assistant: "You just got a call from Joe Tyler, president of Midcity Mining."

Sen. X: "What does he want?"

Assistant: "He wants you to vote against the billboard amendment."

Sen. X: "What's his interest in it?"

Assistant: "They make reflective materials. The billboard com-

Watching TV has tended to make us a nation of nibblers. As the hero gallops over the sagebrush, the viewer reaches for something to put in his mouth; eventually, the dentist must reach for the drill. — Editorial in Journal of American Dental Association.

What will be useful from basic research, and where it will lead us, we cannot know. But have it we must, or we will certainly have to abrogate our leadership to Russia. — Dr. William H. Pickering of California Institute of Technology.

Sunday School Week

The Sunday Schools of our churches are one of the bulwarks of our religious worship, helping to educate youth and adult alike in Bible truths.

Next week is National Sunday School Week, an opportune time not only to recognize Sunday Schools for the important role they play in religious education but to voice appreciation for them and to the devoted teachers and officers who serve in lay capacities.

Many a Sunday school teacher has left the imprint of Godly living with a young boy or girl and even older persons, teaching them the application of religious principles to everyday life. Salem's Sunday schools are not so crowded that your family can't share in a fuller understanding of Christian fellowship.

Once Over

Having TV set rewired for luck is becoming common. The air is so loaded with jackpots that the American living room is almost a gambling joint. Bingo, Wingo and home audience participation shows are the latest, with big money programs letting the home folks in on the prize money.

The trend is spreading. It might even spread to news programs, cooking hours and interviews, with ED Murrow linking cash, minks and airplane trips into "Person to Person."

Fans could be let in on gambling motif on Murrow program guessing correctly whether a world notable is wearing suspenders or belt during an interview and stating whether a diplomat's hairline is true or false.

TV COOKING PROGRAM could work a cash prize into a recipe for an upside-down cake, possibly whipping up strawberry tart in sound booth and offering an auto to the listener correctly guessing how many strawberries are being used.

It is hard to tune in these days without getting yourself into a prize contest. Men, women and kids are shooting for $100,000 with less nervousness than they would ordinarily show while playing for marbles.

The outdoor aerial is a beacon in a coast-to-coast raffle. Your TV set has the appeal of a slot machine. Our radio expert says a fellow who hadn't won anything in three nights phoned. "Take this set out. I can't win a dime through it." (Our set isn't much good, either, since we are yet to get a free round-the-world cruise in a luxury liner, a month in Bermuda or a cash windfall with it. Must be tube trouble.)

We view the trend with alarm. The jackpot appeal is so important to high ratings that we expect to see acrobats offering prizes, bingo being tied into an animal act, and an Indian Club swinger billed under the heading "The Big Giveaway."

A MAN TRYING ON SUIT in a clothing store was knocked down when an auto crashed through the window. He was just insisting

Yankee Dogwoods

In years to come, if everything goes all right, throngs of Japanese will fill the Diet gardens in Tokyo each spring to marvel at the beauty of American dogwoods in bloom.

A shipload of dogwoods has been sent to Tokyo in gratitude for the Japanese cherry trees that draw admirers each spring to Washington's tidal basin.

But there is nothing trickier under the sun than transplanting a Yankee dogwood. Even professional foresters hesitate to tackle what most amateurs finally begin to believe is impossible.

The only fool-proof way to do it is to take up enough dirt with each tree so it doesn't know it is being transplanted, then to give it so much attention with watering and mulching that it never has a chance to find out.

A VISIT TO THE CIRCUS emphasizes what a refreshing entertainment it is in a day when other phases of show biz dish out so much crime, violence and sex. The "big top" has no switchblade ballet, no dancing street gangs, no sordid stories and no "message."

You can go to the circus sure that it has no "perfect crime" as a background and no problems concerning busted marriages, twisted mentalities and vicious scenes in the back alleys. Leaving the big show you don't ask, "What was it all about?" or "Did you think the killer was well played?" or "Wasn't the part of the child who poisoned her aunt overwritten?" And the circus pugilist never uses the "under-a-wet-rock" approach in his advertising.

J. Edgar Hoover has appealed to Eric Johnston in a letter against crime movies, charging they "traverse the bounds of common decency, glorify the gangster and make him a false idol to young at a time when juvenile crime is reaching new highs." Eric is awfully busy, however, on foreign policy, foreign aid, etc., and concern for the welfare of the kiddies on the home grounds may have to wait.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

I do not know how others feel about it, but summer arrives when there finally is enough daylight after my evening meal to justify changing into working clothes and tackling an outdoor project.

Is anyone checking up to make sure that domestic science teachers are showing sweet young things in their classes how to prepare a precooked dinner without burning the thing?

It is doubtful if we'll discover anything in outer space weirder than the behavior of a few of our own Hollywoodians.

Frequently these days, I must talk about the difference it would make if we all began to talk about dollars going down instead of prices going up, because that is, in fact, what inflation is.

Not even the most capricious critic in the Kremlin could have found anything to object to in Bob Hope's TV presentation of the films about life in the Soviet Union.

One of the great forward strides of the last decade, in my judgment, has been made in the design of men's shirt collars, which now fit better than ever before and are more comfortable.

It flatters me to be asked what I think about the unbecoming sack-and-bag styles for women, until I discover that someone is trying to draw me into an argument.

When the pile of stuff I intend to read sometime gets to be five inches high, I throw it away and start a new collection. Today's measurement is only four inches.

My favorite jingle of the moment goes like this: Spring has sprung, the grass has riz, I wonder where my lawnmower is.

When a friend tells me he clocked a fraction better than 40 miles to a gallon on his foreign car, I am reminded of my boyhood ambition to own a gadget of that era called a "motor wheel." It was a little gas engine that drove a wheel which you attached to a bicycle. Used to get 40 miles to a gallon, if I recall.

I wonder if it makes other motorists as sore as timakes me when a gang of fumble-fingers ruins a multi-million-dollar highway that our motorists have paid for, by careless patchwork after digging it up for sewer connections etc.

There are times when I think it would be a fine idea to wear one of those gadgets that squirt water out of a flower in the lapel—to cool off overheated conversation-alists.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Just how many Ohio high school students are taking science and math courses?

Dr. Harold J. Bowers, director of teacher education and certification of the State Department of Education, supplied the answer today at the annual meeting here of the Assn. of High School Principals.

There are 403,849 students enrolled in Ohio senior high schools now. Bowers says 52 per cent are taking math and nearly 59 per cent are taking science courses. But he said in prepared remarks:

"The situation is not as bad as it has been pictured, nor is it as good as it could or should be."

A recent study shows nearly 79 per cent of all freshmen are taking general science courses, nearly 74 per cent of all sophomores are taking biology, 38 per cent of the juniors are studying chemistry and 21 per cent of the seniors are studying physics.

Enrollments in physics and chemistry classes are somewhat misleading, he said, because smaller high schools teach those subjects on alternate years.

"Many of the students studying physics already have had chemistry and many of those taking chemistry will be studying physics next year," he said.

"This tends to refute the accusation frequently voiced that students are taking watered-down general courses in science. Only about one per cent of total high school students are taking such courses."

Contrary to public opinion, he said, colleges now are preparing more science and math teachers than ever.

"The shortage of such teachers . . . is due to skyrocketing high school enrollments and the fact one-third of the new teachers do not teach following graduation," he said.

The state certified 745 new math and science teachers for the current year. But 245 did not teach full-time in Ohio.

Bowers found that 26 per cent of the 245 took jobs in business or industry, 17 per cent entered the armed services, 27 per cent enrolled in graduate schools, 15 per cent had home responsibilities that prevented teaching, 11 per cent did occasional substitute teaching.

The average salary of those teaching in Ohio is $3,975, compared to an average salary of $4,756 for those who took jobs in industry.

The average salary of those who decided to teach outside Ohio was $40 below the average for Ohio science and math teachers.

UAW Reports Extension Of SUB Plan

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United Steelworkers Thursday announced a revision of its supplemental unemployment benefits plan which will enable a hitherto ineligible group of laid-off workers to collect payments going back to last September.

Paul Schremp, USW district director, asked that workers be brought under the SUB plan by the enlarged eligibility register by April 15 with the employment offices of their plants.

Under an agreement with the steel companies last Jan. 31, Schremp said, two groups of steelworkers who could not collect SUB under the original plan became eligible for the payments. He said these were:

1. A SUB-covered employee who worked less than 32 hours a week and earned less than 65 per cent of his average full weekly pay.

2. A SUB-covered employee who was laid off at the steel plant, took a job on the outside, but earned less than 65 per cent of his average full weekly steel plant pay.

In both cases, Schremp said, payment will be made in a lump sum from SUB funds of the difference between what the steelworker earned in any week since last September and 65 per cent of his average full weekly steel plant pay. Such payment, however, Schremp said, cannot exceed a $25 a week maximum and cannot be collected for the initial week of the period to which it applies.

Before the change was negotiated in the SUB plan, any worker wanting to collect SUB had to be eligible for state unemployment compensation and to have completed the required one-week waiting period.

To understand how the revision in SUB works, take as an example a steelworker whose take home pay (not gross) is $90 a week, or $22.50 a day. The 65 per cent of take-home pay he could claim under SUB is $58.50. If his work week at the steel plant was cut to two days and his pay dropped to $45, he would, of course, be unable to file for state unemployment compensation under which his maximum payment would be $39 a week.

Magic of April

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are many days in Manhattan when a man feels his soul has the altitude of an African pygmy.

But the payoff days come in spring. Then everyone shrugs off his coat of winter morbidity, and the tallest skyscraper is only knee-high to his soaring mind.

On such a day, when spring fever grips the big city, it turns into a small town.

The rush slows to a walk. Folks quit shoving each other in the subway.

The harried bus driver calms his temper and crieth "Welcome!" to the passenger.

The angry cabbie ceases to unbraid the foolhardy pedestrian, and rummets over him not.

The old cop on the beat reaches up and fingers an opening leaf on a grimy tree; and wonders how it will be when he retires to Florida.

The young window washer, once a paratrooper in Korea, leans out lazily against his belt—44 floors over the ant-men below, and yawns at the clouds.

The sadness dies out of the voice of the guitar playing blind beggar on Broadway. He sings a new tune, and passers by clink silver music into the cup that is his portable cash register.

Down on the East Side, matresses bloom on the fire escapes in their first spring airing. Lines of fresh laundry, the flags of the poor, dance from one tenement wall to another.

Up in Central Park bums drowse on the benches under the statues of heroes. The statues look as if they would like to sit down and take it easy, too.

The wonder of living creeps into the heart of the office peasant. He yawneth at his desk, he dawdleth long at the water cooler, he wiseth it were champagne.

Distance lends enchantment, and everyone wishes the boss would become more enchanted by going home early. Duty no longer calls; it barely whispers.

Everyone wants to go out in the open air to find an apple tree in bloom to lie under and remember when he was young, and his love was too.

Just mass spring fever, turning people back into people again by the magic of April. It will pass. And that's the pity of it.

Posts, Beams Reduce Construction Costs

Post-and-beam construction saves money on the addition of a room, porch, garage or carport to a house because it eliminates the cost of 2x4 supports and the labor of installing them.

In post-and-beam construction, the weight of the roof and walls is supported by beams held up by 4x4 or 4x6 posts. A further savings is achieved with economical truss roof construction.

This gabled roof can be roofed with asphalt which are economical yet offer the advantages of color, dependability, and long-lasting protection.

OIL CAN STRIKE — R. W. Brearton, manager of employee relations at General Electric's large Steam Turbine Generator Department in Schenectady, N.Y., holds an oil can which triggered the strike of 4,000 men at the plant. The union wanted an extra man put on to use the can. A company spokesman said, "This strike is entirely a question of who squirts the oil can."

Easy Carpet Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the easiest and "cleanest" rug cleaner, known as Blue Lustre, is available after years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue to cause rapid resoling. The pile is left open and fluffy as the colors spring out like magic. So easy to apply with a long handle brush (like playing shuffleboard) and is safe for all types of carpets.

Use Blue Lustre to clean the entire carpet or remove spots and traffic lanes. It's economical as 1/2 gallon of concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Gas Tax Collections Drop Sharply in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio gasoline tax collections dropped sharply last February compared to both the collections the preceding month and February of 1957.

Figures compiled yesterday by K. K. Douglas, chief of the Motor Fuel Tax Division of the Ohio Department of Taxation, placed last February's collection after refunds at $9,896,272. Last January the figure was $11,081,338 and in February of 1957 collections were $10,955,065.

Douglas attributed the drop to both cold weather, which curtailed driving, and general business conditions.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Questions and Answers

This week's first question concerns the stomach, a remarkably fine organ which performs a complicated function.

Q — I am puzzled about one thing. Two years ago a doctor discovered that I had no hydrochloric acid in my stomach. Could I take acid after meals? I have had a primary anemia and have had treatment for it with vitamin B12 drugs and other things.

A — The stomach normally secretes a small amount of hydrochloric acid which is useful in the digestive process. This acid may disappear in two principal conditions: pernicious (or primary) anemia and cancer of the stomach. In you case it is evidently associated with the pernicious anemia. Sometimes hydrochloric acid is absent in the stomach secretions without obvious reason. Current opinion is that hydrochloric acid does not always need to be taken with or after meals even when it is absent in the stomach. On some occasions the doctor may recommend it, but in your case undoubtedly the continued treatment of the pernicious anemia is the most important.

Q — Can you give me some information about heel spurs? Is there any permanent relief for this condition?

A — These bony protuberances which come off the heel bone and are called calcaneal, or heel spurs, are fairly frequent and apparently only occasionally cause pain or distress. When they do cause trouble it is usually wise to try to relieve the pain by lessening the pressure from shoes by any one of several devices. Attempts have sometimes been made to cut out the excess deposits, but too often the results of such attempts have proved disappointing.

Q — I have been informed many times about the nutritive value of carrots as a food. I have also been told that they have value for the eyes.

A — I do not know of any particular reason why carrots should be better nutritionally than other vegetables, except that they contain a chemical substance which may be converted into vitamin A in the body. The latter is thought to be of value in helping the eyes to see in a dim light. It will not, of course, correct astigmatism, far sightedness, glaucoma, cataracts or any of the common eye disorders.

Crash Program In Understanding Suggested in U.S.

this country needs is not more scientists but a crash program in understanding our fellow man, a University of Wisconsin professor suggested today.

Dr. D. A. Worcester said it is illuminating but not very inspiring to note how much the nation spends on understanding guided missiles, and how little it spends on understanding the person who guide them.

In an address prepared for the International Council for Exceptional Children, Dr. Worcester said: "The hue and cry right now is for more scientists. . . . We are proposing new institutions and unlimited budgets to develop means of destroying our enemies. It is conceivable that a similar expenditure in support of talented minds devoted to the understanding of the peoples of the world might render unnecessary the instruments of annihilation."

"It might even make our present enemies our friends."

The social studies — history, geography, economics, etc. — are hard studies, Dr. Worcester said. Every effort should be made to spot the gifted students in those fields.

"It has been observed," he said, "that the movements of the heavenly bodies since the beginning of time are not as complicated as the play of a child for a single hour. It is harder to launch a meeting at the summit than to launch a satellite."

"Who will volunteer to put even Dennis the Menace into orbit and guarantee the intelligibility of the signals he will send back?"

"The struggle for survival may best be accomplished by learning how to stay out of war," he said.

Researcher Reports X-Rays May Contribute to Leukemia

NEW ORLEANS — X-rays of routine examination. More than 25 per cent of the leukemia uncovered during the survey was found in the children of these irradiated mothers.

Nearly a third of the other kinds of malignancy occurring among the surveyed children came from mothers who had been subjected to diagnostic radiation. This represented the findings in searching the records of 30 children of unirradiated mothers against those of 30 leukemic children and 70 other young ones who had other kinds of malignancy.

The findings were presented to science writers on the American Cancer Society's tour of research centers. They were made and reported by Dorothy Ford, a senior medical student.

Commenting on the survey results Dr. Charles C. Sprague, assistant professor of medicine, said X-rays probably are being over-used on pregnant mothers in this country generally.

About one in every five expectant mothers received radiation during late pregnancy as a matter of fact.

Brenda Ikirt

ed well on the road to good health and she was told by doctors that she could return home in about two weeks.

Then she again developed a fever, and the surgeons scheduled another operation for today.

On Easter Sunday, Brenda walked to church services in the hospital in a new dress she had received for the occasion.

The exact cause of the child's death is not known.

Lisbon citizens, moved by the plight of the Ikirt family, conducted a drive last November and December to raise money for debts incurred by Brenda's illness. A total of $800 was collected, but the amount still owed by the Ikirts in hospital and doctor bills is staggering.

Born July 18, 1950 in East Liverpool, Brenda was a second grade student at Lincoln School in Lisbon.

Besides her parents, she is survived by her paternal grandfather, Lee Ikirt, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Carlisle, all of Lisbon.

Services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. at Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. Roy Armstrong, pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Salem. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

County Board

Elliot and Harry Greenwood were the only board members present last night. Roger Stafford was absent because of a death in the family, and the fifth chair is vacant since the resignation of Freeman Strabley of Salineville last month.

Weingart said the board plans to fill the post at its regular meeting Tuesday night. The new Southern District, composed of Salineville, Wayne and Yellow Creek districts, has suggested six persons for the post, according to County Supt. James L. McBride, clerk of the county board.

No action was taken on the state board's recommendation that western part of Elkrun Township be transferred from Beaver Local District to the Lisbon School system.

In that connection, a Beaver elector, Franklin Sturgeon, filed a mandamus action yesterday in the Common Pleas Court, asking that the Elkrun transfer proposal be certified to the County Board of Elections for a vote of all Beaver district electors.

Judge Joel H. Sharp set May 9 as a hearing date and allowed an alternative writ which stalls any action until the hearing. Attorney Lynn Riddle told the board it appears to him the county board is in collision with Beaver Local to stall action on the transfer as long as possible.

He said the county board has until April 27 to act on the transfer. He asked the county board if it had been served in the Sturgeon suit, and it was told it had not been served.

He informed the court he plans to file a legal action, bringing in W. H. McMullen of Elkrun Township as a party defendant in the Sturgeon action, and will try to have the hearing date moved up. Otherwise, the county board might upset the transfer for another year, he said.

McMullen was the plaintiff re-actor in the Elkrun mandamus action which forced the county board to send the Elkrun petition to the state board after first having turned it down.

In other action at last night's meeting McBride requested a second telephone line for the county office and his request was granted by the board. McBride said installation of the second line will increase the monthly phone bill from $38 to around $50 per month.

McBride also mentioned the need of new quarters for the county offices. The three-room office is "badly overcrowded" and is a poor place for county board meetings, he said.

The next regular meeting of the county board will be Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the county offices in the Courthouse.

Homes Being Built Spring also has brought a resumption of new homes construction that waned last winter when cold weather set in. Several allotments are being developed at the edges of the city and new homes or existing streets are going up.

Dave Simich will build a new house at 208 Edgewood Drive at a cost of $12,000 while Michael Ulitchny is planning one at 1760 E. 3rd St. for $11,000 as is Robert Citino at 1814 E. 3rd St. for $7,000.

Workers completed the installation of an attractive vertical sign in front of the Ohio Edison Co., 553 E. State St. The sign, which measures 24 feet in length and 4 feet in width, will burn continuously.

Another new sign identifies the G. C. Murphy Co. store at 506 E. State St. The golden letters are on a porcelain base 84 feet long.

Rebels began attacks on Santiago utilities before dawn, hoping to spark a general strike in Cuba's second largest city. Youthful gunmen poured into the center of the city, firing pistols and machine guns and hurling grenades and gasoline bombs at stores that began to open.

The city of 250,000 persons has been heavily garrisoned by Batista's troops since Castro began raiding the surrounding province. The troops scattered the rebels with fire from machine guns on rooftops and chased the Castro forces with motorized patrols.

Within a short time the attack was over.

aware that the Soviet leader has two more potential propaganda bombshells in reserve if he wants to follow up the recent Soviet announcement of a decision to call off nuclear weapons tests.

Already there have been hints from Khrushchev himself that the Soviet Union at some point may announce a decision to halt the manufacture of nuclear weapons.

The other potential action would be to announce some time after U.S. nuclear experiments star in the Pacific this spring that the Soviet Union is canceling its own test suspension — and put the blame on the United States.

The specific proposal to begin diplomatic talks is part of a Western effort to pin the Communists down to hard facts where possible.

UCT Drafts Plans To Secure Better Postal Facilities

The United Commercial Travelers at a meeting this week drafted campaign plans to secure improved post office facilities here.

The UCT will request that a survey be made by a postal inspector of conditions at the post office. The group will send letters to postal officials, congressmen and senators in an effort to get this survey made at the earliest possible time.

A UCT committee will also call on the Manufacturers Association to provide engineers to study the problems at the post office and thus be able to offer suggestions to the postal inspector when he makes his survey.

Surveys were conducted here in 1945, 1949 and 1950 but local postal officials have been unable to get any response from the Post Office Department in Washington as to what was recommended in the way of expansion and remodeling.

They believe any of these suggested projects would now be outmoded due to the changeover from rail to truck transportation of the mails in the last few years.

For that reason, a new survey is believed necessary. Afterward, the support of organizations and citizens of the community will be solicited in an effort to gain federal approval for the work project which will be determined from survey.

The project was aided by Mrs. Letha Asby who visited Sen. John Bricker March 18 and gave him a report of what had been done here in the past in an effort to get needed improvements. She was assured by Sen. Bricker that he would do all in his power to promote the project with postal officials.

City Council recently passed a resolution in support of the drive for better postal facilities.

Indians Win 15-14 Ten-Inning Marathon From Giants

Vernon Smacks 3-Run Homer

Porter Lashes Out Pinch-Hit Double

By The Associated Press
Frank Lane is the kind of baseball horse trader who will swap two young colts for a team of tired old plow pullers and, when he gets them home, suddenly find he has a pair of prancing thoroughbreds.

But good, bad or indifferent with his multiplying deals, it can never be said that Trader Frank is content with the status quo. He is always trying. He is the game's No. 1 manipulator.

The man who introduced the three-plate system first with the Chicago White Sox and then the St. Louis Cardinals—that is, one team going, one coming and one playing—is now up to similar tricks with the Cleveland Indians. And baseball watches interestedly.

The Indians won a 15-14 ten-inning marathon from the San Francisco Giants Thursday in Houston, Tex., and the deft hand of Cleveland's new general manager, Lane, was recognizable in the proceedings.

Mickey Vernon hit a three-run homer in the eighth to put Cleveland ahead 12-11. Vernon, 40 next week, was bought from the Boston Red Sox last winter.

After the Giants had gone ahead 14-12 in the tenth, J. W. Porter lashed out a pinch-hit double to score two runs and pave the way for the ultimate victory. Porter was another of the pawns in a Lane trade. The catcher came to the Indians in a four-player deal which sent Jim Hegan to the Tigers.

Rain washed out five exhibition games in the South and Southwest but four were played.

In addition to the Indians-Giants nightmare, the Chicago Cubs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers at Mesa, Ariz., 7-3 on a seventh inning home run by Ernie Banks; the Cardinals edged the Chicago White Sox at Denver 8-7 on a bases-loaded wild pitch in the ninth by Bill Dufour, and the Pittsburgh Pirates slugged Mexico City again, 10-2, in a night game below the border.

Leetonia Track Squad Will Open Season Tuesday

A total of 14 candidates, including seven lettermen, will swing into action Tuesday when the Leetonia High School track squad opens its 1958 season at home against North Lima.

The lettermen are Tom Rudebeck, Jim Rance, Paul Morris, Chuck Lippitt, Terry Tilly, Chum Heil and John Roose.

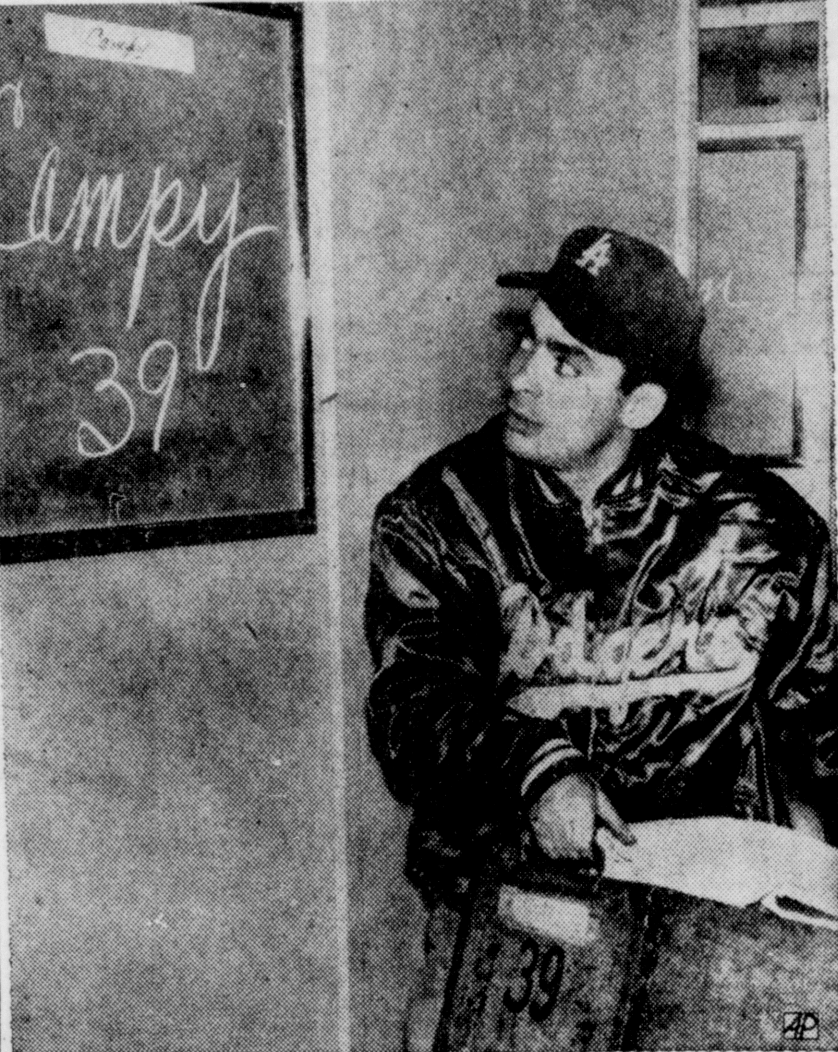

Coached by Virgil Roman, the Bear thinclads will meet Greenford in a home dual meet April 18. Their remaining schedule is as follows:

April 22, Canfield, home.
April 25, Jackson - Milton and North Lima, triangular meet at Leetonia.

April 29, Beaver Local, home.
May 1, United Local, away.

The team will participate in the Columbiana County meet at East Palestine May 9 and in the Northeastern Ohio Class AA meet at Salem May 13.

St. Paul, Minn.—Del Flanagan, 150, St. Paul, outpointed Walt Byars, 154, Boston, 10.

'CAMPY' STILL WITH DODGERS — Los Angeles Dodger's equipment man Charley Di Giovanna delivers the injured Roy Campanella's playing gear to the locker sentimentally assigned to the star backstop at the club's Coliseum dressing room at Los Angeles. The club's equipment—7000 pounds of it—arrived from the Dodgers' spring training camp. Campanella is still in a New York hospital paralyzed from an auto accident.

Alston Says Reese in Plans For Season

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Pee Wee Reese captain of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was obviously amused when told that his manager had said he looked like a chicken this spring.

Spring chicken, that is, said Manager Walt Alston, gazing about the field as his Dodgers turned up for another exhibition to day with the Chicago Cubs.

"Yep, at 38 you're pretty old," said Pee Wee, who a moment was playing a gentle game of catch with a team mate, Elmer Valo, in front of the dugout.

"Reese," Alston had said a moment earlier, "gets around like a kid. He certainly figures in our plans this year."

Shortstop Reese has shown he can still shut off the attempted burglary of second base by a runner, and he can still drill a batted ball with deadly precision through the infield.

But he still resents repeated reference to his age of 38.

"Seriously," he said, "I feel better physically than I did when I first broke in."

"Sure, I might get hurt, and I may not be as fast as I was a few years ago. But . . ."

It was just a few years ago, in 1940, some 18 years ago, that the Little Colonel from Kentucky broke in with the Dodgers.

He played in 84 games that year and batted a highly respectable .272. Since then, in some 2,107 games in a Dodger uniform, he has averaged very little less as a hitter and been among the mighty on defense.

As for hitting, well this old guy of 38 just happens to be leading the Dodgers at this stage of spring — .344 in his limited duties to date.

NCAA Council May Ban Chiefs From Postseason Play in '59

SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle University, which battled to the No. 2 spot in the NCAA Basketball Tournament last month, may find itself on the outside looking in when postseason tournament play rolls around next year, the Post-Intelligencer said today.

Brennan, Curtice to Be Head 'Teachers' at UC

CINCINNATI (AP)—Coaches Terry Brennan of Notre Dame and Jack Curtice, now of Stanford, will be the head "teachers" today and Saturday at the University of Cincinnati's annual spring football clinic.

UC officials said they expected between 600 and 800 high school coaches to attend the clinic.

Brennan will give two lectures today while Curtice, who has moved to Stanford after coaching at Texas Western and Utah, will direct the instruction Saturday.

Tonight, Cincinnati will wind up its spring football practice with a game between the potential 1958 varsity and a team of alumni all stars. A crowd of from 5,000 to 8,000, including the visiting coaches, is expected to attend.

The P-I, in an article by Boyd Smith, said it learned from a reliable source that the NCAA Infractions Committee has found Seattle University player recruiting practices don't measure up to NCAA standards.

The paper said the committee may recommend to the NCAA Council meeting later this month that the Chiefs be banned from postseason play in 1959.

The P-I said the committee was particularly interested in an instance in which the paper said Coach John Castellani of SU paid the expenses of a high school cager who visited the SU campus.

"I can neither confirm nor deny reports of this kind," Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA said in Kansas City.

Castellani was out of town and unavailable for comment.

The P-I quoted the Rev. John Kelley, S.J., academic vice president of Seattle University, as saying: "I can tell you that the allegations have been made and that Seattle U. is cooperating fully with the NCAA. The school will do everything it can to correct any violations which may have occurred."

Noted Sports Writers To Speak

Junior Baseball 'Award Day' Program Scheduled Sunday

Charles "Chilly" Doyle, former sports writer for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and past president of the American Baseball Writers' Association, will be the featured speaker at the Salem Junior Baseball Leagues' "Award Day" program which will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Other speakers will include Chester Smith, editor of the Pittsburgh Press, formerly of Salem, and George Perrault of the E. W. Bliss Co. who will speak on "Our Youth."

Ben Barrett will introduce the speakers.

The program, which will be the kickoff for the 1958 season in which over 600 boys will participate, will include the presentation of awards to the 1957 champions and runnersup in the respective leagues.

Special tribute will be paid the Floding Drug team which was runnerup in the 1957 state tournament. The team was managed by Ted Berry.

Parents of prospective players, and all other interested persons are invited to attend.

The rules and constitution of the leagues will be explained, and plans will be discussed for the formation of a mothers' and fathers' club that would be affiliated with the leagues.

Teams which will receive trophies are: Class E, CIO No. 3816 and Deming Co.; Class F, Fisher's News and Eljer Co.; Class G, Floding Drugs and Eagles Lodge No. 316; and Class G, Brown-Ziegler and National Dry Cleaners.

225 Expected At Boosters' Cage Dinner

Some 225 persons are expected to attend the annual Booster Club basketball banquet to be held at the Memorial Building Saturday evening beginning at 6:30.

The club will present two awards, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will award its annual Most Valuable Player trophy.

Main speaker will be George Hunter, basketball coach at Mt. Union College.

Hunter's team finished fourth this season in the 14-team loop, and the squad's 1957-58 record of 18-6 brought Hunter's eight-year mark to 87-57.

He is a graduate of Youngstown South and Mt. Union and is presently working on his master's degree at Kent State.

Harry Baird and Jack Gottschling of Salem, both Mount cagers, will accompany Hunter.

PURSE SWINGS

Boston Registers 5-2 Upset Victory Over Montreal Team

MONTREAL (AP) — The world looked brighter to Don Simmons tonight.

The slender 150-pound goalie for the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League was acclaimed as the key figure in Boston's 5-2 upset victory over the Montreal Canadiens Thursday night that squared the Stanley Cup final.

The opening game Tuesday night he had been feinted out of position on the 87-57.

He is a graduate of Youngstown South and Mt. Union and is presently working on his master's degree at Kent State.

Harry Baird and Jack Gottschling of Salem, both Mount cagers, will accompany Hunter.

Boardman, Busso To Trade Punches

BOSTON (AP) — Lightweight Larry Boardman will seek to avenge an earlier thumping by Johnny Busso tonight.

Boardman, who has won four straight since returning to the ring wars, retired last year after a decisive loss to Busso.

Johnny, a New Yorker, will be making his first appearance since his recent discharge from the Army.

Busso decked Boardman twice here last June and came up with a lopsided unanimous decision.

After that the 22-year-old Marlboro, Conn., youth decided to try his hand at construction work. His comeback was hastened by financial need.

Larry is a different fighter now, according to Sam Boardman, his father, manager and trainer.

"He's a smarter fighter than he used to be," Sam said. "He doesn't take the reckless chances. He's a finished boxer now and he's punching harder than ever."

Boardman earned the video shot mainly on his crushing fifth-round knockout of Kid Centella at Miami Beach last month.

NBC will telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Local Trackmen To Vie In Meet

Ohio, Pennsylvania Squads Will Compete

Some 21 Quaker trackmen will travel to Bethany, W. Va., tomorrow to compete with Ohio and Pennsylvania teams in the Bethany Relays.

The event will be staged on the Bethany College track. Besides Salem, other district schools entered include Boardman, East Palestine and Columbiana.

One of the teams entered is Cleveland Lakewood. The latter team possesses the 1957 champion in the 440-yard run. A strong Keystone state entry will be Mt. Lebanon whose thinclads annually rank among the top in that state's scholastic track circles.

The Salem trackmen will be in action at home Tuesday against Youngstown Ursuline in a dual meet. The Red and Black copied their opener last Tuesday with a 92-26 romp over Glenwood.

Lawrence to Pitch Against Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Rain-out Thursday of a game with Washington in Charleston, W. Va., has fouled up Manager Birdie Tebbets' Cincinnati Redlegs pitching rotation even before the season starts.

Tebbets, apparently still figuring on using either Brooks Lawrence or Bob Purkey in the season opener against Philadelphia Tuesday, had planned to use Purkey Thursday and Lawrence against Baltimore's rioters here tonight.

But cancellation of the Charleston game knocked that idea out so the Redlegs indicated he'd derail Purkey an let Lawrence go tonight as planned.

Tebbets has indicated that he intends to let Lawrence, Purkey, and Harvey Haddix handle the starting pitcher roles for the Redlegs until April 24 to let the fight for other starting positions continue. He can do that because of frequent open dates during the first 10 days of the season.

Scheduled to rejoin the Redlegs here was Frank Robinson, slugging young outfielder. Robinson suffered a mild concussion when hit by a pitched ball Wednesday and he had been planned to keep him in Cincinnati until the team returns home. He was released from a hospital Thursday, however, and was scheduled to fly here today.

Pittsburgh Defeats Mexico City 10 to 2

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Spectators threw tin cans and burning newspapers onto the playing field at Social Security Stadium Thursday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Mexico City Red Devils 10-2 in an exhibition game.

At one point, the umpires threatened to call off the game as part of the crowd of 30,000 swarmed onto the field.

When the Pirates left the field after the game, the spectators showered them with more tin cans but gave them an ovation and shouted "Ole, ole."

Pitcher Bob Friend, who will start for the Pirates in the National League opener at Milwaukee next Tuesday, held the Mexican team scoreless in the six innings that he pitched. Roberto Clemente, Johnny O'Brien and Frank Thomas each hit a home run for the Pirates.

Los Angeles — Mauro Vasquez, 127, Mexico City, outpointed Herman Duncan, 127½, Los Angeles, 10.

Hawks Turn Attention To Offense

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks, with a chance to win the National Basketball Assn. championship Saturday night, turn their attention today to polishing an offense that tends to stall before a pressing defense.

The Hawks hold a 3-2 edge over the Boston Celtics in the best-of-seven series. They have the home court advantage before a sell-out crowd for the sixth game, and several Boston players are ailing.

But Coach Alex Hannum of St. Louis, in ordering today's practice session, was mindful of the 1957 playoffs in which the Hawks lost out to the Celtics in a seventh game that went into double overtime.

Hannum is worried also about the effectiveness of Boston's full court press—each defensive player picking up his man as soon as the ball is thrown in. The Celtics have employed the tactic several times since losing the services of Bill Russell, their rebounding ace who sprained an ankle earlier in the playoffs.

If the Hawks win, it will be the first NBA championship for a Western Division team since the Minneapolis Lakers took it in 1954. If Boston wins Saturday night, the seventh and deciding game will be played at Boston Monday night.

Hike in Winter Wheat Crop Is Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department yesterday forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 963,636,000 bushels.

This estimate compares with 906 million bushels indicated last

Dec. 1 by the department on the basis of the acreage planted. It compares also with 707,201,000 bushels produced last year and 849,604,000 for the 10-year (1947-56) average.

No forecast was given for the spring wheat crop. But the department said, in the March planting intentions report, that a crop of 171 million bushels is possible.

The new winter wheat forecast plus a spring crop of 171 million bushels would give a total wheat crop of 1,134,636,000 bushels compared with 947,102,000 last year.

This year's wheat crop, like all since 1954, is being grown under acreage planting allotments and marketing quotas designed to help hold down overproduction. In addition, some of the allotted acres are being held out of production under the soil bank payment program.

The percentage of the winter wheat acreage not expected to be harvested for grain was reported at 5.6 per cent compared with 15.8 per cent last year and 16 per cent for the 10-year average.

The yield of winter wheat per seeded acre was forecast at 21.9 bushels compared with 18.3 last year and 15.9 for the 10-year average.

The condition of the rye crop as of April 1 was reported at 88 per cent of normal compared with 84 per cent a year ago and 85 per cent for the 10-year April 1 average.

THE QUIET AMERICAN

PART OF SEAWAY PROJECT — Tons of water rush through spillways of a dam at Massena, N.Y., part of the St. Lawrence Seaway. The water will be diverted through a different route shortly while the spillways are finished. This dam will be completed by June and the entire seaway project by the fall of 1959.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

There are only four states across this broad land in which the McClellan committee did not find any leads, encounter any racketeering or need to interview a single person who knew of criminal invasion of unions there.

The badlands did not reach into North Dakota, the stretches of Idaho and Wyoming or the ruggedness of Vermont. Everywhere else there was evidence of infiltration — yet the men who represent the other 44 states on Washington's famous hill apparently will pass no laws of any kind to safeguard the 18 million rank-and-file — whether proposed by friend or critic of labor's leadership.

Yet there will, in effect, be a vote on such proposals. That vote will be cast by the people of California when they go to the polls to vote for or against Sen. William Knowland for governor.

The senator has made no pretense. He wants to be elected or rejected on what he calls his bill of rights for labor's duespayers.

His appeal has been daring. In recent weeks he has mailed copies of his bill on union reforms to the editors of 14 labor newspapers in California.

KNOWLAND KNEW, of course, he was writing to the spokesmen for his most bitter critics. And he said to them:

"I recently introduced legislation in the Senate to assist the rank-and-file of union membership to obtain democratic control over management of their own union affairs.

"You will find enclosed a copy of the legislation, the statement I made when it was introduced on Jan. 23, and a section summary of the bill. I hope you will publish the text of this legislation so that the union members will have an accurate understanding of my objectives in their behalf. With best wishes..."

The senator received five replies. One reported they had printed the proposals. One was rude and told him not to send any more material. The others just said thanks.

Sen. Knowland is a hard man to discourage. Some days ago, he along with other candidates, received an invitation to outline his views during the week of April 19 convention in Fresno of the California State CIO. A Republican has as much chance of receiving support there as a Los Angeles Dodger in empty Ebbets Field.

BUT THE SEN. will face them with these proposals:

1. He wants a law calling for election of union officials within four-year periods by popular vote of the membership in secret balloting.

2. He wants the National Labor Relations Board to have power to receive and act on the petitions of members who charge that union officials have been illegally elected.

The same NLRB shall have the power to hold a poll on the recall, say of Dave Beck or William Maloney in earlier days, if 15 per cent of the union membership ask that the labor chief be removed. This would hold true for a local union as well.

Also if 15 per cent, or one out of every seven members sign a petition, the board shall have the power to change a union constitution if the rest of the membership vote for such changes in a special election run by the government agency.

The same procedure would for changes in and vetoing of decisions of union leaders on dues, initiation fees, assessments, union salaries, fines, suspensions, expulsions, union benefits and support of non-union activities.

The same procedure is called for in the launching or continuation of strikes.

The bill would put a one-year limitation on the seizure of local unions by national officers under the trusteeship rules. Mr. Knowland's proposals say that funds of such trustee-controlled locals must be used exclusively for the benefit of the union and its members.

The senator could also prohibit union chiefs from signing a pact with management which prevents union members from striking — unless such an agreement is first approved by the membership in secret ballot.

These are just a few of the proposals. There are others. The people of California will be voting for or against them when they vote next for governor. The nation is watching.

Bank Robbers Appeal Trial Conviction

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — (Doc) Summers, 44, convicted with the late George (Bugs) Moran and Albert G. Fouts of the 1945 burglary of the Citizens State Bank of Ansonia (Darker County), Ohio, was returned here Thursday for a hearing on the trial.

The Sixth U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati ordered the hearing for April 22 in Dayton Federal District Court, attorneys for Summers and Fouts had charged that the Sixth Amendment to the Constitution — right of a speedy trial — was violated.

The three were taken into custody in 1956 when they were released after serving a sentence in Ohio Penitentiary for the 1946 armed robbery of a Dayton tavern owner. The attorneys contend that the 11-year lapse between the 1945 bank burglary and the trial for it in late 1956 is not a speedy trial.

The Court of Appeals in ordering the hearing said it was the responsibility of the defendant to move for a speedy trial.

Moran died of lung cancer at Leavenworth shortly after his conviction. Fouts, 66, of Dayton, is free on $15,000 appeal bond for the hearing. Summers, however, was unable to post the bond and was returned here by Deputy U. S. Marshal Earl Pfeiffer.

Beck Told to Give Up Union-Owned Property

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union moved yesterday to strip Dave Beck, its former president recently convicted of larceny, of all union-owned property.

Teamsters sources said Beck has been ordered to relinquish, by April 30, a union-provided office and automobile, and to give up a union-paid secretary in Seattle.

It was also reported Beck probably will be ordered soon to turn back a lavish $160,000 Seattle home. Beck originally built the place, then sold it to the Teamsters to raise money to pay back union money, but still has occupied it.

The orders to recapture all teamsters assets held by Beck apparently came from James R. Hoffa, new Teamsters president, Beck's successor.

A National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Museum is being erected atop a hill near Oklahoma City. It will honor famous cowboys in much the same manner that the Baseball Hall of Fame honors noted ball players.

Three Die in Two-Car
Crash Near Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Three Toledo men were killed in a two-car collision just west of here early today, the State Highway Patrol reported.

The dead were identified as Sigmond Wodarski, 22, the driver; his passengers, James R. Kries, 21, and Melvin Poulson, 23. The driver of the other car, John R. Conrad, 17, of Toledo, was injured. Extent of his injuries and details of the accident were not given. Conrad's two passengers were not hurt.

Mickey Vernon Good
Insurance For Tribe

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—When Cleveland purchased Mickey Vernon from the Boston Red Sox two months ago, it seemed he would be used only as insurance for slugger Vic Wertz at first base.

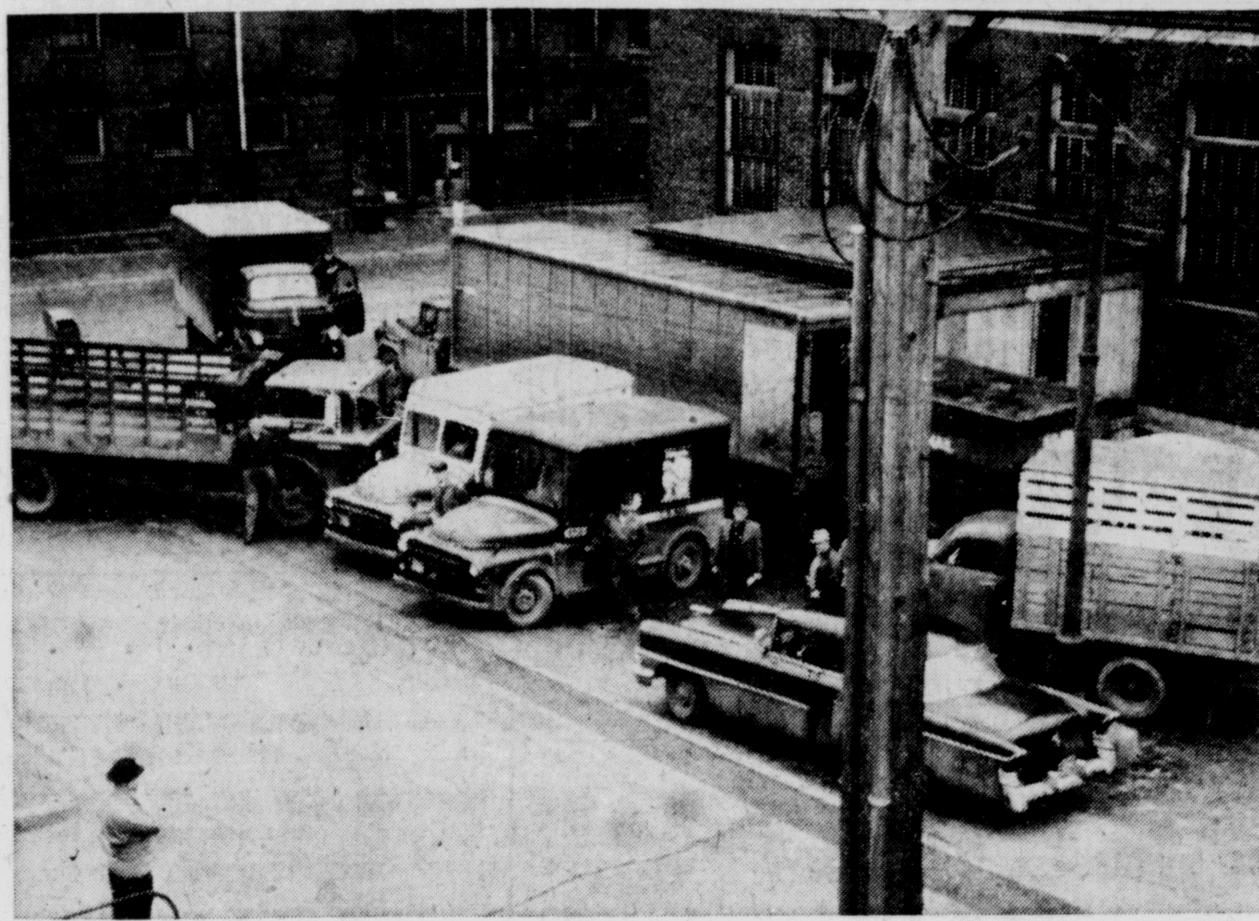

With Wertz sidelined with a broken ankle for probably half the season, the two-time American League batting champion appears to be just the right kind of insurance for the Indians. Going on 38 in another two weeks, Vernon, a slick-fielding first sacker, suddenly has found his eye for the long ball.

He rapped a grand slam home run against the San Francisco Giants three days ago to win a ball game. Thursday he hit a three-run homer in a pinch-hitting role to put the Indians ahead, 12-11, in a wild contest they finally took from the Giants, 15-14 in 10 innings.

Giants' Opening Game
Is Complete Sellout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—I took only 90 minutes Thursday for the San Francisco Giants to sell the final 3,700 tickets for Tuesday's National League opener with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

All other tickets for 23,400-seat Seals Stadium were sold out Dec. 1 for the inaugural of major league baseball on the West Coast.

Landscape Architect Suggests
Best Methods to Enhance Site

There's nothing like April showers interspersed with sunny, dew-drop days to lure green thumbs and the family carpenter out of doors.

However, before you avid gardeners assault the sprouting greens, you should seek an ear toward some sound advice proffered by a prominent landscape architect, Ellis, a member of both the American and the Oregon Society of Landscape Architects, has this advice for homeowners: "Remember the purpose of landscape design," he says, "is to enhance the dwelling not to add complications which detract from the house and the beauty of the site."

"Even the smallest and barest of sites has qualities which can be exploited and, indeed, the small site offers a great challenge in that planting and outdoor structures such as fences and paths are a should conform gracefully and naturally without crowding and confusion."

Ellis said the fence was probably the one element of the garden which was the most misunderstood and misused. Often, he pointed out, and especially in suburban development, the fence is used as a barrier, a means of shutting out the rest of the neighborhood.

This is acceptable, he conceded, provided that existing vistas and pleasant outlooks are recognized and that some thought is given to achieving a decorative result.

For instance, even the most handsomely designed wood fence can become monotonous and heathenly when it is placed along a lot line like an industrial installation. Add textural contrasts and dimensional relief, and this same fence becomes a thing of beauty and livability.

In determining the proportions, Ellis recommended, make sure that it is not too tall in ratio to the height of the house, nor too ponderous for the size of the lot. Keep it as light and airy as possible to avoid a boxed-in feeling.

Select a fine wood such as Douglas fir or western red cedar and be sure that posts have been properly treated. Chemically treated fir or cedar posts can be placed directly in the ground, eliminating the need for concrete support.

Then, rather than erecting the fence in a straight line, vary its depth and texture by using parallel panels offset and putting in sections of appropriate planting to act as a supplementary screen.

Greensboro
Golf Tourney
Washed Out

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—A field of 130 golfers was ready to try it again today in the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open tournament, whose scheduled opening day was washed out Thursday.

The tournament is the official kickoff of the Professional Golf Assn. summer tour. But temperatures Thursday were in the mid-40s and rain persisted two hours after the tee-off.

A 36-hole windup has been scheduled for Sunday to make up for the lost day. After 18 holes today and 18 Saturday the field will be trimmed to about 75 for the final, double round.

Sam Snead seeks his seventh victory, the first coming in the 1938 inaugural. Lined up against him are such worthies as Ken Venturi, Billy Casper, Jay Hebert, Art Wall, Doug Ford, Mike Souchak and Stan Leonard, the defending champion. Fourteen of the current 25 money winning leaders are in the field.

The Starmount Forest Country Club, well watered by earlier rain, figured to be even more of a test as a result of the latest downpour. The low, heavy course likely would give the longer hitters an edge.

The par 71 course, measuring 6,631 yards, will be the scene of the tournament for five years in succession.
